

SOCIAL SCIENCE
LESSON: 10 SENDING AND RECEIVING MESSAGES

Name: _____

Date: _____

Class: V Sec: ____

I	Name the following:
1.	The first newspaper introduced by Julius Caesar. _____
2.	Two means of mass communication _____
3.	It joins the computer network with telephone lines. _____
4.	A sound proof of room where sound waves are changed in to radio wave _____.
5.	The faster means of communication _____.
6.	The most important means of mass communication _____.
7.	The cheapest means of entertainment _____
8.	Give an example for two way communication _____
9.	This has considerably strengthened our communication system _____.
10.	It helps the cartographers and meteorologists to make maps and predict weather. _____.
11.	These phones can be carried with us anywhere _____
12.	It tells us how the product is better than others. _____.
13.	Give two examples for one way communication _____, _____.
II	Write the full forms of the following:
1.	ISD _____
2.	STD _____
3.	PCO _____.
4	PIN _____

INDIAN SCHOOL NIZWA - WORKSHEET

5	SMS_____
6	GPS_____
7.	GPRS_____
III	Fill in the blanks
1	Man – made communication satellites are called _____
2.	The mobile phones which are having multipurpose devices are called _____.
3	_____ reduces a lot of paper work and it is economical also.
4.	_____ and _____ brought revolutionary changes in our modes of communication
5	Television was invented by _____.
6.	The invention of _____ brought about a revolution in the field of communication
7.	The _____ map completes earth once a day for weather forecast
8	. _____ transmits the exact matter of document , letter etc. from one place to another
9	Telephone was invented by _____.
10	E-mail was invented by _____
11	Fax was invented by _____
12.	_____ invented radio.
13	_____ helps us in finding directions to our destination
14	The telephone was invented in _____.
15	Television was invented in _____.
16.	Newspaper reporters make use of _____ to send their reports quickly.
17.	Instead of key board make or mouse we just use _____ or _____ as an input device.
18.	_____ have a great impact on our lives.