ENGLISH

TOPIC: Grammar Test (Articles)

Name: _____ Date: _____ Class: VIII

Q) Fill in the blanks with articles.

Moyna was ____ young girl, about ten years old. She was chasing ____ large snake. ____ narrator grabbed her plait and held her back. “No, Moyna, don’t!” he shouted. “It’s not ____ grass snake or ____ rat snake; it’s ____ cobra,” he said. Moyna asked why she shouldn’t catch ____ cobra. ____ narrator dragged Moyna to ____ Samiti office. Her mother, Khiri, was weaving ____ basket there. ____ Samiti was ____ place where people could come to learn. Moyna shook her head vigorously when asked if she was tired. She had ____ lot of responsibilities like bringing ____ goats home and collecting ____ firewood. ____ postmaster called her ____ “Why-Why Girl”. Moyna questioned why she had to walk so far for ____ water and why they couldn’t eat rice twice ____ day. She tended ____ goats of ____ village landlords.

Q) Fill in the blanks with articles:

_____ large, fluffy cat sat on _____ windowsill, gazing out at _____ bustling street below. _____ sun cast _____ warm glow on its fur as _____ gentle breeze rustled _____ leaves of _____ tall oak tree in _____ nearby park. _____ occasional car drove by, its tires humming on _____ asphalt, while _____ few birds chirped merrily from _____ branches above. _____ scent of freshly cut grass drifted in through _____ open window, mingling with _____ aroma of brewing coffee from _____ kitchen. _____ small child skipped down _____ sidewalk, holding _____ bright red balloon. _____ elderly woman watered _____ flowers in her garden, her movements slow and deliberate. It was _____ peaceful afternoon in _____ quiet neighbourhood, _____ perfect moment to simply observe _____ world go by.